“ Through my dad, Paul Davignon, I met Adele at Victorian Heights Assisted Living. She was so sweet and a very talented musician on the organ. She and my dad always sat at the dinner table together and enjoyed each others company. They would sometimes visit with each other and share a glass of wine. The friendship they shared was special to both of them. She will be missed by all, but she is now living with her Lord and there is no more sorrow or pain for her. Our thoughts go out to Adele's family - her two granddaughters who I had the pleasure to meet once or twice while they were visiting her. God's peace to all. Lois and Tim Ott
