

George Boras

August 25, 1932 - May 1, 2024

MANHATTAN, N.Y. —

George Boras, 91, was born in Queens, N.Y., Aug. 25, 1932, and passed away peacefully in New York, N.Y., on May 1, 2024.

A lifetime New Yorker, George was the ultimate host, delighting his many friends with his perfect recall, hilarious sense of humor and lively stories of working in the theatre and of the city he loved.

George managed the Broadway Theatre for the Schubert Organization and acted in off-Broadway productions. He traveled widely in Europe, Asia and Africa. After retirement, he became an avid bridge player.

He was predeceased by his long-time partner, Geno Sartori, with whom he established The George Boras-Geno Sartori Fund for charitable giving.

No memorial service is planned; George's ashes will be buried with Geno's in Evergreen Cemetery, Crystal Falls.

Contributions in memory of George may be made to the Gay Men's Health Crisis, 307 W. 38th Street,

New York, N.Y. 10017.

The Nash Funeral Home & Cremation Services of Crystal Falls is handling local arrangements.
